Eucharistic Revival, Introduction to the Mass: Opening Rites #8-The Collect

"Trust in Him at all times, O people; pour out your hearts before Him. God is our refuge. " Psalm 62:8

The final action of the Introductory Rites is the Collect. The priest will begin the prayer by saying, "Let us pray," which is meant to be more of a command than just an introduction-in the silence following this invitation, each individual should be offering up their prayers in the silence of their hearts. After a few moments, the priest will say a prayer that gathers together or 'collects' all of the diverse petitions we just offered to God in our hearts. This prayer then becomes one prayer that is offered on behalf of all. Usually, there is some specific intention that is included, like the sanctification of the Church or an outpouring of the Holy Spirit upon those gathered, which gives a definite trajectory to the Mass itself.

What is the petition you most frequently bring to God?

Who or what do you feel you should be praying for now?

A parishioner at St. Thomas Aquinas Cathedral has reserved a theater at the Riverside Century for the showing of "Sound of Freedom" on Sunday, September 10, at 1:30pm. This is a powerful film about child sex trafficking that is sure to make you think and consider what you can do about it. Admission is free but we will accept donations for Awaken, a local nonprofit that works with youth who have been trafficked to help them get out and up. This is NOT a children's film, but all older teens and adults are welcome. Please come, learn and pray.
